DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION

We may share the information we collect from and about you with our affiliates and other third parties, service providers and contractors. For example, we may share your information with:

Affiliates. We may disclose your personal information with our subsidiaries and affiliates for purposes consistent with this Privacy Notice. This includes affiliated websites and businesses to bring you improved service across our family of products and services, when permissible under relevant laws and regulations; we do not disclose information about your credit worthiness to affiliates.

Service Providers and Contractors. We may disclose personal information with third-party service providers and contractors subject to appropriate confidentiality and use restrictions, as part of providing products and services, completing transactions, supporting everyday operations or business management and development. This includes disclosing personal information to support human resource activities and workforce management, such as employee training and development, recruiting, employment eligibility, onboarding, compensation analysis, payroll, and other transactions involving employees and to employee benefits service providers including companies who provide healthcare, retirement, insurance or other benefits plans.

Advertising or Analytics Providers. As mentioned above, we may use personal information in support of our: (1) advertising and marketing efforts, including to serve interest-based advertisements across the Internet; and track and categorize your activity, interests and device(s) used over time on our websites and applications, and on third-party websites and mobile applications; and (2) research and analytics efforts, including to better understand your use of our websites and applications to improve those technologies and optimize your experience and interactions. To do this, we may disclose your information with certain third-party advertising or analytics providers (collectively, “Analytics and Advertising Providers”) through our use of Collection Technologies. These Analytics and Advertising Providers may use Collection Technologies on our digital properties to collect and store information about you and your use of our websites, applications, and other digital properties.

Representatives of California Residents. We may disclose personal information with companies or individuals that represent California residents, such as accountants, financial advisors, or individuals with power of attorney.

For Routine or Required Reporting. We may disclose personal information for routine or required reporting, including to consumer reporting agencies or other third parties.

Professional Advisors. We may disclose your personal information to professional advisors, such as lawyers, auditors, and insurers, where necessary in the course of the professional services that they render to us.

Business Partners. We may disclose personal information to our business partners, such as those companies with which we offer co-branded services, products, or programs.

For Risk, Legal, and Compliance. We may disclose your personal information to third parties, including regulators, government agencies, and law enforcement, for the risk, legal, and compliance purposes described in the section above.

Business Transfers. We may transfer or disclose some or all of our business or assets, including your personal information, in connection with a business transaction (or potential business transaction) such as a corporate divestiture, merger, consolidation, acquisition, reorganization or sale of assets, or in the event of bankruptcy or dissolution.

Your Consent or Instruction. We may disclose your personal information in situations where we have your consent or instruction to do so.

We may also disclose your personal information (1) for risk, legal, or compliance purposes; (2) to our Professional Advisors; (3) because of a business transfer (or potential business transfer); or (4) based on your consent or instruction.

Where appropriate, we will limit sharing of your information in accordance with the choices you have provided us in response to our U.S. Consumer Privacy Notice at columbiabank.com/privacy/consumer-privacy-notice and our Privacy Notice for California Residents at columbiabank.com/privacy/privacy-notice-for-california-residents.

We may disclose anonymous or aggregated information with third parties to help deliver products, services, and content that are tailored to the users of our online services and for other purposes.

UNDERSTANDING COOKIES, WEB BEACONS, AND OTHER TRACKING TECHNOLOGIES

Columbia Banking System, Inc., our services providers, and third parties engaged on our behalf may use cookies, pixel tags, or similar tracking technologies (collectively, “Collection Technologies”) to gather personal information when you use, access, or otherwise interact with our websites, mobile applications, or other digital properties. While we do not disclose your personal information in exchange for money, our use of these collection technologies may be considered a “sale” or “sharing” under California law. California residents have the right to opt out of such selling/sharing activity. More information about our use of collection technologies is available earlier in this Digital and Mobile Privacy Notice. We may use the information for business purposes such as fraud prevention and monitoring our advertising and marketing campaign performance. Some of these tracking tools may detect characteristics or settings of the specific device you use to access our online services.

“Cookies” are small amounts of data a website can send to a visitor’s web browser. They are often stored on the device you are using to help track your areas of interest. Cookies may also enable us or our service providers and other companies we work with to relate your use of our online services over time to customize your experience. Most web browsers allow you to adjust your browser settings to decline or delete cookies but doing so may degrade your experience with our online services.

Clear GIFs, pixel tags or web beacons—which are typically one-pixel, transparent images located on a webpage or in an email or other message—or similar technologies may be used on our sites and in some of our digital communications (such as email or other marketing messages). They may also be used when you are served advertisements, or you otherwise interact with advertisements outside of our online services. These are principally used to help recognize users, assess traffic patterns, and measure site or campaign engagement.

Bear in mind that because cookies are stored by your browser, if you use different browsers on your computer, or multiple computers and devices that have browsers and you do not wish to have cookies collect information, you will need to opt out from each browser on each of the computers and devices that you use. Please note that even if you opt out of those preferences, you may still receive advertisements from us; they just won’t be customized based on your web-browsing activities on third-party websites.

LINKING TO THIRD-PARTY WEBSITES

Columbia Banking System, Inc. may provide links to websites that are owned or operated by other companies (“third-party websites”). When you use a link online to visit a third-party website, you will be subject to that website’s privacy and security practices, which may differ from ours. You should familiarize yourself with the privacy policy, terms of use and security practices of the linked third-party website before providing any information on that website.

CHILDREN’S ONLINE PRIVACY PROTECTION ACT (COPPA)

The Federal Trade Commission adopted a regulation (16 CFR 312) to implement the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA), which governs the collection and use and/or disclosure of personal information from and about children on the internet.

We do not operate a website or online service directed to children that collects or maintains personal information about children under the age of 13 or operate a general audience website or online service and knowingly collect or maintain personal information online from a child under the age of 13.

For more information about the Children’s Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA), visit the FTC website: ftc.gov

SECURITY

We use physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards that comply with federal standards to protect and limit access to personal information. This includes device safeguards and secured files and buildings.

Please note that information you send to us electronically may not be secure when it is transmitted to us. We recommend that you do not use unsecure channels to communicate sensitive or confidential information (such as your SSN) to us.

UPDATING YOUR INFORMATION

Keeping your account information up to date is very important. You may review or update certain account information by logging in and accessing your account(s). If you cannot change the incorrect information online, or you prefer to request changes offline, please use the Contact Us option on our site at columbiabank.com/contact-us or call or write to us using the contact information listed on your account statements, records, or other account materials. You can also speak to one of our branch representatives, your financial advisor, or your digital banking representative.

CHANGES TO THIS NOTICE

We may change this Digital and Mobile Privacy Notice from time to time. When we do, we will notify you by appropriate means, such as by posting the revised notice on our website with a new “Last Updated” date. Any changes to this Notice will become effective when posted unless indicated otherwise.
